DHS-TV

Sponsor Brett Schwartz

Deerfield Film and TV is the club for filmmakers and video journalists. Come learn how to write, direct, shoot, and edit videos in our film and TV studio. We have lots of professional gear to meet your filmmaking needs: students will film on 4K cinema cameras, field camcorders, and studio cameras. We have a choice of edit stations, including Adobe Premiere and Apple Final Cut Pro. Our TV control room utilizes a 4K live switcher with professional mixing audio board, and out in the field and in the studio, students will use shotgun boom and lavalier microphones and portable LED lights. In addition to individual projects, the club will support the award-winning all-school news broadcasts that occur, including anchor taping and show editing. Our seasoned veteran and student producers will help coach you and create a friendly and supportive environment for all freshmen-seniors. Whether you are considering learning about film or broadcast journalism, become a digital storyteller and join us!

Deerprints – The Student Newspaper

Sponsors Brett Schwartz & Bettie Liberles

Deerprints is the student-run and student-produced newspaper and website which can be found at www.dhsmedia.org. People on staff learn to write and think like reporters, debating ethical issues to balance their roles as students and reporters. In addition, they gain skills in terms of thoughtfully designing content to best meet the needs and interests of an audience.

Deerprints gives students a hands-on opportunity to make their voices heard while practicing writing and editing with high-interest topics. Deerprints is a fun, interesting way to be a part of a team that provides a valuable product for the entire community.

O*YAD - Yearbook

Sponsors Herb Regan & Mike Moran

It's not just a club—it's a class! The Deerfield High School yearbook is created by a dedicated group of students that span between a club that meets after school and an actual Media Production class which meets during the school day. While it is recommended that students interested in producing the yearbook enroll in the course to maximize their experience, we also welcome students who are curious or limited in time to join our club to assist in various capacities. Media Production students become editors of the book—choosing content, writing copy, designing spreads and shooting photos—making the decisions that will shape a yearbook that our entire student body will treasure for years to come.

Writers, designers, photographers, artists and computer junkies welcome—there is no experience necessary. Help share the memories of your class at DHS—join Yearbook!

Troubadour

Sponsors Neil Rigler & Tim Bleck

Troubadour is the annual art and literary magazine containing original photography, drawings, poetry and short stories contributed by Deerfield students. It serves as a creative outlet for the DHS community and provides a learning experience for the students who compile the magazine. All students are invited to submit work and to participate in the selection process. Troubadour is a beautiful, free magazine that is published in the spring.
